

Perfect Example move to Wadebridge

Perfect Example the award winning domestic cleaning and holiday home services company have expanded again and moved into new premises at Palmers Way on Trenant Industrial Estate in Wadebridge.

The company had been looking at a number of premises across North Cornwall and Newquay with a view to making it their head office for the next phase of growth. This is obviously great news for future employment opportunities within the local area.

“We recognised last year that we would need to expand into larger premises that could cater for our expanding business and our growing numbers of staff,” explained Scott Fairhurst, one of the Directors of Perfect Example. “2007 is another great year for our business and with plenty of new customers contracted to start in 2008, we need to have more office space and larger storage facilities.” “During 2008, we will be launching a new lifestyle type business that will also be managed and administered from our new premises,” added Scott.

The new premises mark another important step on the company’s ambitious business plan towards offering high quality Holiday Home Services, Domestic Services, Holiday Property Management and Washroom services right across Cornwall, as they only cover the North Cornwall and Newquay area at the present time.

As well as being very modern business premises, they have been designed to help retain and develop staff. “Retaining and developing staff within a quality working environment is essential to any quality business” explains Tina Fairhurst, also a Director of Perfect Example Ltd. “To help do this, we have equipped a meeting and training room for staff development and even put breakfast facilities in the kitchen!” “During 2008, we will be doubling our workforce so getting all the right facilities in place now is vital to our continued success.”
